What Is This Thing, and Why Am I Involved?

They say you never get a second chance to make a first impression. But we're pretty sure there are no hard and fast rules about a second impression. So here goes. \(READ MORE\)

A Closer Look: Scoping the Sprinkler

Failing sprinkler pipe in residential and commercial buildings is a costly problem on the rise. Impact Analytical is studying what it'll take to solve it. \(READ MORE\)

In the Lab: Bis-phenol A

Baby bottles. Food containers. Dental fillings. Water bottles. All of these products and many more have been found to contain harmful levels of Bis-phenol A (BPA) in recent months. Here's the good news: We've got a test that can help. \(READ MORE\)

A Face with the Name: Kathey Robertson

She runs Impact's NMR with a steady hand. She mentors young chemists. And she just survived an audit by the FDA. Seems like a good time to sit down for a chat with Kathey Robertson. \(READ MORE\)

Identity: What Is Impact Analytical?

We weren't rocketed to Earth from the dying planet Krypton. We weren't bitten by a radioactive spider. And we've never been (intentionally) exposed to excessive gamma rays. But we've got a pretty interesting origin just the same. \(READ MORE\)
